GREATEST ROBBERY IN HISTORY IS DONE BY GANG OF BOYS

FOUR BOYS ARRESTED, THREE
HAVE CONFESSED—$1,000,000
IN LOOT RECOVERED

(United Press)

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 18.—The Burlington railway mail robbery in Council Bluffs Saturday, probably the largest of its kind in history, in which $1,500,000 were stolen, was planned and executed by a band of boys scarcely out of their teens.

Four of the boys have been arrested, three of whom are said to have confessed, and $1,000,000 of the plunder has been recovered.

The boys who were arrested are Merle Phillips, 20; Orville Phillips, 17; Fred E. Paffenbarger, 19, and a boy named Roberts, age 20. All four are residents of Council Bluffs and were railroad employees.

Orville Phillips surrendered last night. He declared his brother Merle, who was arrested Sunday, had nothing to do with the crime. Merle confessed Orville, is reported to have confessed in order to shield him. Officials believe both are implicated.

The securities which were recovered were found in a lake near Council Bluffs. Police are dragging the lake in an effort to recover the remainder of the loot.

Express Companies Are Given Increased Rates on Paper Shipments

(United Press)

Washington, Nov. 18.—The interstate commerce commission today approved an express rate increase of half a cent per pound on short haul shipments of daily newspapers.

The former rate was half cent a pound on daily newspapers. The new rate is one cent per pound for first class rates, thus not exceeding four and a half cents per hundred pounds. This increased rate does not apply where wagon deliveries and special newspaper trains are used.

Approval was also made for an increase from one cent to one and one-half cent on the short haul minimum rate on newspapers other than daily papers.

SOFT COAL SUPPLY EXCEEDS DEMAND

MINES—NO SHORTAGE ANYWHERE

(United Press)

Washington, Nov. 18.—The bituminous coal supply is outstripping the demand and production is promising to reach a new high record, and prices continue to drop, coal men announced today.

While less optimistic views are taken of the anthracite situation, the belief is expressed here that it also will recover from the effects of the recent outlaw strike, and right itself by the first of the year.

Officials of the coal miners association and operators today said the supply of bituminous coal is steadily improving and production for the present week may set a new record. Prices at the mines continue to drop and there is no shortage except an occasional case in scattered localities.

TWO YOUTHS PLEAD GUILTY TO ROBBERY

SENTENCED TO LONG TERMS IN PRISON—CONFESSED TO NUMBER OF ROBBERIES

(By United Press)

Chippewa Falls, Nov. 18.—Frank Coleman and Frank Roberts, twenty year old youths, pleaded guilty to charges of robbery today and were sentenced to seven years at hard labor in the Green Bay reformatory.

The pair were captured by H. Kilpatrick and two men after a thrilling fight on a lone north woods lane seven miles north of New Auburn late yesterday. Deputy Chas. Bixton and Richard Slayton, farmer, went with Kilpatrick to the cache the pair had established in a cottage on Axe Handle lake. The boys had fled northward toward Lady Smith and the sheriff followed. As they went on they overtook the pair, passed them and stopped in a side lane and waited. Both boys drew guns when they were accosted and Slayton seized Roberts. Coleman leveled the gun at Kilpatrick but the sheriff knocked it from his hand with his own weapon. In the scuffle that followed Bixton suffered a broken hand. The others were cut and bruised. The boys confessed to a number of robberies in towns all over northern Wisconsin.

COAL COMPANIES SWINDLE CONSUMER

SELL THOUSANDS OF TONS OF HALF BURNED HARD COAL

(United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 18.—Thousands of tons of half burned hard coal are being sold to Minnesota consumers at the price of first class fuel, according to J. H. Hay, deputy state commissioner of agriculture.

"This deteriorated coal has been partly burned in fires caused by spontaneous combustion at Superior and Duluth docks," Hay said.

Hay said consumers in Minnesota and Wisconsin have been gouged out of thousands of dollars from the practice of coal and dock companies in selling this half burned coal and the practice has been going on unchecked for many years.

MEETING CALLED TO CONSIDER PLAN OF BONUS PAYMENT

IT IS PLANNED TO HAVE LEGISLATURE
AMEND LAW SO STATE WILL STAND DISCOUNT

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 18.—Plans for continuing payment of bonus to Minnesota former service men after Dec. 1, were discussed today at a conference called by J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, Adj. General Rhinow had announced yesterday payment of bonuses would cease Dec. 1 until after the next legislature, W. T. Stevenson, former assistant attorney-general but now representing the Wells-Dickey Company of Minneapolis, which has purchased $900,000 worth of certificates, attended the conference.

Mr. Preus, who is one of the three members of the soldier bonus board, said he had suggested that the sale of certificates to banks be stopped Nov. 25 and explained that this would not necessarily mean that bonus payments would be entirely stopped. He said a sufficient amount of money would be received up to that date to enable the board to continue paying bonuses until the next legislature meets in January, when it is planned to have the legislature amend the bonus law so it will be unnecessary for service men to pay the banks any interest for cashing claims. Under the present system banks discount claims three and three-fourths per cent. The plan is to have the banks purchase these certificates from the state at a discount if necessary.

NORTHWEST COULD SAVE $40,000,000 A YEAR ON COAL BILL

IF MISSISSIPPI RIVER WAS MADE
GREAT INLAND WATERWAY, SAYS BARGE OPERATOR

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Nov. 18.—The Mississippi river can be made the greatest inland waterway in the world and the northwest could save $40,000,000 annually on its coal bill alone, according to Edward F. Doltra, St. Paul, a successful barge line operator.

He assured business men at the conference of the Upper Mississippi Valley Waterways association that the northwest could save $2.75 per ton on coal from Illinois fields with a regular barge traffic established.

A permanent program was formed with W. Prickett, head of the Minneapolis association, as president. It was agreed to spend $12,000 annually on the campaign for improvement of the upper river. Doltra told the conference the poorest stretch is around Rock Island, Ill., where it widens out. He declared it would be a paying investment to make the deep waterway and eight hundred and forty miles of needed improvement. Congressman Each, of Wisconsin, reviewed the history of water and rail transportation, and urged that the program be carried out.

NO PROSPECT OF A COAL FAMINE

(United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 18.—There is no prospect of a coal famine in the middle west this winter, according to F. C. Hanold, one of the largest coal mine owners.

Hanold declared that there has been a tremendous increase of cars and coal is now moving freely.

"The mild winter has helped to avert the coal famine," he said. "The fact that we have had little cold weather has increased the stock of coal on hand."

HARDING SPEAKS AT NEW ORLEANS

SAYS HE IS CONFIDENT AMERICA
WILL FACE FUTURE SUCCESSFULLY

RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—Though reversions and discouragements may lie ahead, America will face the future courageously and will win out, President-elect Warren G. Harding said, discussing the economic situation before the Chamber of Commerce here today.

He warned that new burdens may have to be borne, extravagance renounced, and old lessons of thrift learned anew.

"With 100 per cent production and minimized waste, we may make a record and establish a sure footing. There is no reason for pessimism and despair," he said, sounding a note of confidence in America's future although warning of the flood and ebb of good fortune.

Ascribing much of the situation to the aftermath of war, he said inevitably there will be readjustment. "There are sure to be reversions and discord, but was confident America will face them with courage and we will win. We may blow up a bit now and then, we may have to bend our backs to new burdens. Surely we are going to be called on nationally, collectively and individually to renounce extravagance and learn anew of thrift and providence. It will add to our power."

Speaking at the gateway of Latin America, he took the occasion to urge friendly relations with all nations of the Western Hemisphere.

Unable to Stop at Vera Cruz
President-Elect Harding will be unable to stop at Vera Cruz. It was learned upon his arrival here today. Steamship officials informed Senator Harding that it would be impossible to route the vessel by the way of the Mexican port.

Dividends paid to policy-holders in 1919	31,698,688
Dividends payable to policy-holders in 1920	32,045,775

BECAUSE—It has an honorable record of seventy-seven years.

BECAUSE—It will pay in dividends in 1920 over 32 million dollars (last year it paid over 31 millions).

BECAUSE—It is purely mutual; there is no capital stock; therefore no stockholders to share the profits of the business which go to the policy-holders, who are the Company, who own the Company, and who alone receive the profits of the Company.

BECAUSE—Since organization the Company has paid and now holds for its policy-holders over 241 million dollars more than the total amount received from them.

BECAUSE—Its policies cannot be forfeited after premiums have been paid for three years (on some plans for two years), the insured receiving either extended insurance or a paid-up policy.

BECAUSE—Its policies provide for annual dividends which may either be (1) withdrawn in cash, (2) used in reduction of premiums, (3) left with the Company to accumulate with interest, or (4) applied to increase the sum payable in case of death.

BECAUSE—You can borrow money from the Company at 6 per cent per annum after your premiums have been paid for three full years (on some plans for two years), and, at slight additional expense, you can take out loan insurance to cover the amount borrowed and leave the full face of the policy to those whom you desire to protect.

BECAUSE—The policy provides for payment of liberal cash values.

BECAUSE—The policy provides for disability benefits; if you become wholly and permanently incapacitated for money-earning the Company will waive the payment of premiums and pay an income to you.

BECAUSE—Its policies provide for paying twice the face if you meet death by accident.

BECAUSE—If you die, your widow or beneficiary may leave the proceeds of the policy with the Company at interest, and withdraw the same as needed, $100 or more at a time, instead of having to take the whole sum at once, with the attendant and imminent dangers of bad investment and possible loss.

BECAUSE—It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you, more certain in its results than land, houses, stocks or bonds as its value does not rise and fall with the market, and panics have no effect on the value of your insurance.

BECAUSE—The company does not invest in stocks or industrial enterprises, believes in the widest possible publicity, and publishes promptly each year an Annual Report in detail that is regarded by bankers and those interested in finance as a guide for the purchase of securities from the standpoints of safety and interest earning. You want the very best, and this the New York Life policies provide. Every reason why you should insure—None why you should not.

How Women May Accumulate Money

How to Accumulate Money

How much money have you saved in the past year? How much money have you saved since you became a business woman or self-supporting in your chosen profession? Are you in the same condition, financially, now that you were the day you began work for yourself?

This last is the frequent and unfortunate experience of business women, even after years of hard work. What is the trouble? One reason for it is that the young woman earning money, while prudent and economical, makes no systematic effort to save and invest for a definite object, and therefore realizes no adequate return for her salary.

But is this right?

What about your future? If you remain unmarried do you wish, when unable to work through advancing age or illness, to be dependent on the charity of others?

On the other hand if you marry, will not your snug savings (if you have made such) give you greater independence and happiness in helping to maintain your home?

By taking out a 10, 15, or 20 year contract in the New York Life Insurance Company, with annual dividends to be either taken in cash or left with the Company to purchase additional insurance.

This form of investment has advantages over any other in many points: 1st. Absolute safety and security. The Company is over 71 years old and conducts its business under the supervision of State and Governmental authorities.

2nd. No uncertainty, as in real estate or many other forms of investments, as to how much will be demanded each year to maintain it, and how long.

3rd. No Assessments. The annual deposit with which you begin remains unaltered during the 15 or 20 years, unless you choose to reduce it by applying your annual dividends to such purpose.

4th. No Probability of Loss. After two annual deposits, you can take a paid-up policy for substantially the amount you have deposited; the amount of said paid-up policy will be paid in cash at the end of the original specified period, or at death.

5th. By insurance, you at once make for yourself an estate, for in case of death it gives at once the value secured by years of saving.

6th. Cash loans at 6 per cent. interest are at your disposal at any time after two years. Many other advantages are contained in this contract.

Can you do better for your own future than to take out a contract which, after a certain number of years, will return to you a stated sum and in addition such dividends as you have allowed to accumulate—this to be paid as you desire, either in cash payment or in the form of an annuity during your lifetime?

Can you do better for those dependent on you than to provide that, in case of your death, there shall be at once a large sum of money to do for them in a measure what you have been doing?

If you cannot save something for such an investment now, when you are young, energetic and strong, what of the time when you will have these advantages in a less degree, or not at all?

Elderly women without insurance frequently say, "Oh, if it had been brought to my attention when I was young! Talk it over with the young women and urge them to insure."

Are You Not One of the Women Who Ought to Attend to It NOW?

When you seriously consider the past and the future does not this plan commend itself to your judgment?

Begin to make your labor count by taking out a policy for your own benefit.

New Policy Features

The New York Life has recently added new features to its policy contract.

Insurance of Policy Loans—Policy-holders who borrow money on their policies may, if still insurable, take additional term insurance covering the amount of the loan. In case of death the term insurance cancels the loan and the face amount of the policy is paid to the beneficiary.

A savings bank feature in the payment of maturing policies—When a policy becomes payable by death or maturity the beneficiary may leave all or any part of the proceeds with the company at interest and draw out money as needed at any time in sums of $100 or over on checks of $20 each.

Send address and date of birth and you will be furnished with full particulars.

Christmas Policies for 1920

What more beautiful gift to one's loved ones than a life insurance policy which will protect them after he is gone—with a loving thought in every dollar of the face of the policy as it is expended for life's necessities, or for education or improvement. Most Christmas gifts convey only by the act itself the spirit of love and the desire for another's welfare and happiness, but life insurance embodies this spirit not only in the gift, but in the thing itself to a greater degree than could any other present.

Let us take the single instance of the gift of a life policy by a father to his daughter, quoting J. J. Jackson, "There will come a day when the hand that was wont to bestow the gift of love is pulseless, when the lips that were wont to speak the words of tenderness are silent. On that day, when desolation holds peculiar sway in her heart because of the chair that, for the first time, is vacant, never to be occupied again—on that day, the letter now lying in the strong box will be sealed and given her. It will convey her father's anniversary greetings as of old and will enclose a Christmas present in the form of a draft drawn by a responsible life insurance company.

"And with every yearly return of that day, so long as she lives, will come a similar check—not a large amount, but meaning more to her than many times the sum from another source, and when she is an old woman, and I have been in my grave for forty years, with every Christmas will come her father's accustomed present, conveyed to her by one of the strongest financial institutions in the world, in accordance with the terms of the life insurance policy now lying in the strong box at home."

A Winter Supply of Drugs

Many simple drugs or drug combinations are continuously demanded in winter.

It is just as important that you lay in a supply of drugs, medicines and emergency needs as it is to buy your supply of coal because there is the same reason for doing so—necessity.

Look over your medicine chest today and decide on the drug need you will want this winter. Make out your order and bring it to us. This is a wise consideration. Come and talk it over with us if you wish.

Sandpaper Label.

A device for protecting people from taking doses from poison bottles by mistake is a sandpaper label. The ordinary label is pasted in a piece of sandpaper large enough to go all around the bottle, so that when any one takes up the bottle in the night, no matter how dazed from sleep he may be, the rough, unfamiliar feel of the sandpaper rouses him and he recognizes at once that the bottle contains poison of some description. The printed label tells the kind of poison in the bottle.

SIMPLEST THINGS

You know the simplest things have been the longest awaiting discovery. Mergenthaler had his wonderful typesetting machine perfected for several years—all but the simplest thing about it. And that simple little thing was the "spaceband" that separated the words. But it was the hardest thing to get. The phonograph is so simple that the first time you saw one you felt like going out behind the woodshed and kicking yourself because you did not invent it. For a century men carried coal and wood to burn under boilers to make steam to generate power. Along came a man who discovered the simple expedient of exploding gasoline in a cylinder and hitching the recoil to the machinery. And a few years ago Dr. Palmer, of Davenport, discovered the spine is the keyboard to health, and he and others have perfected the theory of spinal adjustments until now it is a DEMONSTRATED FACT that the cause of disease is in the spine, and Chiropractic Vertebral adjustments eliminate this cause in the majority of human afflictions.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Jury Returns Verdict of Not Guilty in Case of Gust Holveas on Wednesday Afternoon

H. J. WOLNER FOREMAN OF JURY

Character Witnesses for Holveas Introduced, being A. C. Ebert, H. E. Kundert, W. E. Haydon

In district court before Judge W. S. McClenahan, the jury in the Gust Holveas case retired at 2:10 p. m. Wednesday and in a little over two hours returned a verdict of "Not guilty" of the charge of receiving stolen property. Rev. Hans J. Wolner was the foreman of the jury.

The verdict followed shortly after M. E. Ryan had closed his appeal for the defendant. Holveas' attorneys were W. W. Baue and Ryan & Ryan. The trial lasted over two days and was hard fought. The state's case was represented by County Attorney S. F. Alderman. Character witnesses for Holveas were W. E. Haydon, H. E. Kundert and A. C. Ebert. In his testimony Gust Holveas, proprietor of the Princess Candy Kitchen, disclaimed having any dealings with either Sorenson or Dibble. Packages of tobacco claimed to have been brought to the candy store were in fact his own property, according to the story of Holveas, and the jury took this view of the matter.

The confession and testimony of Dibble did not seem to carry much weight with the jury insofar as the case on trial was concerned. W. E. Haydon, president of the Haydon company; H. E. Kundert, cashier of the Brainerd State bank, and A. C. Ebert, head of the Brainerd Fruit Co., testified as to the good reputation and excellent character of Holveas.

The civil case of Catherine Undraitis as administrator, vs the City of Brainerd, is now on trial. She seeks to recover $7,500 damages for death of her husband. The latter, it is alleged, touched a charged guy line, attached to an electric light pole and was electrocuted.

The men on this jury are C. E. Gage, Charles Blunt, Francis Fallon, J. R. Hillman, W. E. Durham, Theo. Esnay, Joe Frazer, P. D. Flansburg, C. F. Maust, A. G. Colmer, Rev. Hans J. Wolner and Lei Fairbanks. The witnesses examined in the morning were Henry Roberts of the city water and light department; Mrs. Catherine Undraitis and her daughter, Ruth Undraitis; Walter Brick. The next witness is to be Dr. E. F. Jamieson. Attorney for the plaintiff are Alderman & Clark, and for the defendant D. H. Pellerton and M. E. Ryan.

John Radul also known as Radulovich appeared in court and was discharged from both indictments.

FIGHT IN YARDS

Policeman Oscar Risberg Arrested Wm. Lappen Charging Him With Being Drunk and Disorderly

According to the story and appearance of Night Officer Oscar Risberg he had quite a fight on his hands this Thursday morning, equaling any contest staged in the movies.

The policeman's story is that he was called to Garvey's restaurant about 5 o'clock in the morning where a man was making himself objectionable by sleeping at the lunch counter. The cook tried to eject the man and was brushed aside. The officer woke up the man, the stranger paid his bill and left the place. Outside an argument ensued and Officer Risberg told the man that if he had to make his brain, then to do so and he walked towards the depot with him.

In the yards, the man booked by the policeman as Wm. Lappen, of Bemidji, turned and struck the policeman a stinging blow on the jaw and knocked him down. Risberg took the count and then got up and some open fighting ensued. There was clinching and after some difficulty the officer got out his club and used it.

This morning the officer has two big cuts on the back of his head, his lip is cut and his right hand swollen. Blood covered his overcoat. Lappen, as related by the policeman, weighs close to 180 pounds and is a much bigger man than the policeman, but the latter got him to go where a charge of drunk and disorderly has been lodged against him.

LAMB SUPPER ENJOYED BY ALL

Patronage Was Good at Chamber of Commerce Wednesday Evening. Degree of Honor Served Supper

COMMUNITY PROBLEMS ARE UP

Permanent Camp Site for Tourists Skating Rink and Ball Ground for Boys, Etc.

The lamb supper at the Chamber of Commerce under the auspices of the ladies of the Degree of Honor, was a decided success in every way. The patronage was good and every man and woman present spoke of the supper as "splendid" so much so in fact that the members of the Chamber in the meeting which took place after the supper, expressed the hope that the ladies would do the same thing again in the near future.

The meeting following the supper was the most interesting for a long time. Several matters of interest to the community as a whole were discussed with much spirit and interest. If the meeting last night is any fair index, the indications are that the Chamber is started on the road to a progressive program of work for the ensuing months.

The erection of a permanent camp site to take care of the tourists for next summer, the providing a suitable skating rink and ball ground for the boys, a parking place for the farmers and other autoists, and a public rest room were among the projects discussed. Secretary Randall expressed himself as happier than at any time since he came here.

DIVORCE CASES

Jennie Michener Secures Divorce and Custody Children—Henry Tollefson Files Suit

In district court Jennie Michener, age 35, has secured a divorce from John Michener, age 48, and the custody of their two children Ralph age 15 and Ray age 13. F. C. McGivern of Staples was her attorney. In her complaint she said they were married in Poplar township, Cass County, Sept. 10, 1903, and gave their residence as Crosby. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment, that he had slapped and choked her and that on August 13 of this year he had left her and was now rooming in Ironton. No answer was filed by the defendant or appearance made in court.

Henry Tollefson has filed suit for divorce against Lillie M. Tollefson. He asserts in his complaint that they were married in Brainerd on July 18, 1917, and that on August 31, 1919 she deserted him. They have no children. He is 43 years old and she is 31.

Degree of Honor

The Degree of Honor held a very successful meeting at the new Elks hall on Tuesday evening. Some 55 members were present, and 15 members of Victory Lodge of Crosby motored down and attended the meeting. A class of candidates was initiated and luncheon served.

Now that they have rented a nice hall, there will be something doing all the time so members should be present at all meetings.

Last night the Degree of Honor served a lamb supper to the Chamber of Commerce. The members were all loud in praises of the fine menu.

ALASKA SOLVES PAPER PROBLEM

CHIEF FORESTER GREELEY SAYS
NEW MILLS THERE WILL OVER-
COME THE SHORTAGE.

RESULTS OF HIS INSPECTION

Tongass National Forest and Other
Tracts Can Supply 1,500,000 Tons
Annually, and Keep That Up Perpetually, He Asserts.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—That the shortage of newsprint will be overcome by new paper mills in Alaska is predicted by Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the forest service, who has just returned from a month's inspection of timber and water power on the Tongass national forest. "The national forests of Alaska," said Colonel Greeley, "contain resources sufficient to produce 1,500,000 tons of paper annually in perpetuity, and a paper industry in the territory is now assured." Colonel Greeley believes that the administration of Alaska's great resources should be put in the hands of men on the ground, but is opposed to the transfer of all federal interests to a local commission.

"The Tongass national forest," says he, "comprises 15,500,000 acres. The bulk of its woodland is along the water edge. The forest is a narrow coastal belt running from one to six miles from the water. Until now Alaska has had no pulp mills. It boasts of twenty sawmills up and down the coast, but they have been used principally to cut lumber for local use and for making cases in which fish are packed. I am satisfied, however, as a result of my recent trip, that the opportunities are there for a second Norway in the paper industry. My ambition is to help develop the paper industry in Alaska along the same lines as in the Scandinavian countries. I would make it a permanent industry. The forests contain the timber to make 1,500,000 tons of paper a year and keep that up perpetually.

Only Solution of Problem.

"Development of the paper industry in Alaska is the only practical solution of the paper shortage in the United States. We must have more paper mills on American soil. Until we have more mills we shall be confronted with the situation we have now. With additional mills we shall not be compelled to worry about foreign embargoes and trade treaties. Alaska gives us the opportunity to build the mills. It has resources for ten or twelve mills which can be kept going for all time. A larger number of mills might make for overdevelopment, which should be avoided.

"A beginning has been made already. One small pulp plant is being built this summer at Port Snettisham. A company has purchased 100,000,000 feet of national forest timber and is now making this small installation. If the venture is successful it will erect a much larger plant. A second enterprise of larger proportions is assured near Juneau. A company is preparing there to install a 150,000 ton mill and we are preparing now to offer for sale sufficient timber in that vicinity to supply the plant for thirty years. We are willing also to reserve for sale sufficient timber to carry the company for an additional fifteen years. These are the only pulp installations which have been definitely assured. Engineers representing other interests in Alaska have been inspecting the forests this summer and it is possible that additional applications for timber will be received. To prepare for these applications the forest service is surveying land and locating water-power sites, which are the key to pulp work."

Easy to Perpetuate Forests.

It is the policy of the government to sell standing timber, but to retain the land and to enforce requirements which insure reproduction of the forests. Reproduction is a simple matter. There are practically no fire risks in Alaska and natural timber grows rapidly. The rates being charged by the government for standing timber are low, averaging about fifty cents a cord.

One drawback to the development of the paper industry in Alaska is the distance. Transportation facilities to Alaska are inadequate. The forest lands, however, are only a two or three days' sail from Seattle and are directly on the water edge. Lack of labor is another difficulty. An organization which intends to establish itself in Alaska must recruit its skilled labor in the states.

The development of Alaska, in the chief forester's opinion, has not been held back by over-conservation, as many claim, but mainly by business conditions which have prevented capital from exploiting her resources. "Alaska," said Colonel Greeley, "cannot be made prosperous overnight by passing some new law. It is going to take time and hard work and favorable conditions in the world's markets. At the same time federal administration can undoubtedly be improved and we owe it to Alaska to aid her development in every practicable way. The first step, in my judgment, should be to decentralize the handling of federal matters by putting a representative of each department or bureau in the territory with full authority to transact its business on the ground.

PLUMBER BOUGHT A COROT

And Art Deal Which Family Condemned Netted a Profit of $71,000 for His Estate.

It would seem that the plumber's capacity for making money is not necessarily confined to his business.

William B. McCormick, writing in Arts and Decoration, tells of one with nothing except his instinct to guide him who bought a superb Corot that enriched his estate by many thousands of dollars.

During the exhibition of a famous collection of art objects in New York, twenty-five years ago, the attendants in the gallery where the collection was shown noticed an unfamiliar and not very well-dressed man spending a considerable time each day in front of Corot's "Lake Nemi," one of the pictures in the collection. On making inquiries they found he was a well-to-do plumber, wholly unknown in the picture-buying world. It appeared later that he told his family he intended to buy the painting if possible and there was a fine family row over the matter. But he stuck to his plan and on the night the canvas came up for sale it was knocked down to him for $14,000. As long as he lived his family never forgave him for his extravagance. But they were forced to change their opinion of his action later. For when the painting was sold after his death it brought $85,000. No single investment of this man's lifetime ever brought him so large a profit.

MEXICO'S BANKING SYSTEM OFFERS FIRST BIG TASK

Fear of Paper Money Makes Mexico's Financial Reform Hard for Obregon

RALPH TURNER,

(United Press Staff Correspondent).
Mexico City, Nov. 17.—Of all the problems which will confront President-elect Obregon when he assumes the leadership of the Mexican nation next December, none will demand more urgent solution than the rehabilitation of the country's banking system.

Thus far Provisional President De La Huerta has left the question almost untouched, evidently believing the problem to be so immense that a short-term "substitute" government would not tackle it.

De la Huerta, however, has divided the question into two salient angles: First, a banking law must be enacted, establishing rules for the guidance of both native and foreign banks; second, a national bank of issue must be founded.

Around both features of the issue revolves the necessity of providing some form of reimbursement for the banks which suffered enormous losses during the revolution. Little progress has been made toward the drafting of a banking law. Several tentative projects have been drawn up, but none of them has passed beyond the embryonic stage and it is not likely any definite action will be taken until after Obregon's installation.

As for the establishment of a national bank, the Treasury Department has at least prepared a project on the subject, which may be presented to Congress at an early date. In this connection, it is recognized first that the institution must be a bank of issue. Mexico today is one of the few countries of the world—perhaps the only one—which is on so thoroughly a gold basis that not a single piece of paper is in circulation. One issue of paper after another, during the revolutionary period, has either depreciated or been repudiated to such an extent that the public will have nothing to do with any money except that made of metal.

By establishing a national bank of issue, the government hopes to restore public confidence and return paper money to circulation. This is one of the main features of the plan for the new bank. This institution, according to the present proposal, is to be known as "The Bank of the Mexican Republic," and is to be the sole bank of issue during a period of fifty years. The capital of the bank will be 100,000,000 pesos, Mexican currency, to consist of a million shares of 100 pesos each, half of which is to be subscribed by the government and the other half by individuals, local or foreign, and by other banks. The project permits the institution to issue notes ranging in denomination from five to one thousand pesos, the total of these notes not to be more than 100 per cent in excess of the bank's gold reserves nor more than three times the capital. The bank may establish branches throughout the republic—in this way the government hopes to revive the national financial structure.

How the Mexican people will receive a new issue of paper money, when the bank is founded, will form one of the surest and most severe tests of the Obregon administration. What happened to the banks in Mexico under Carranza, creating the present situation, is well described by Carranza's own finance secretary, Luis Cabrera, who writes that the First Chief, in 1916, "first demanded of the banks that they bring their reserves to a par with their circulation, later placed them in liquidation and finally confiscated their gold and silver, the banks as a result ceasing to function."

GEORGIA MOB LYNCHES 3 NEGROES

(United Press)

Douglas, Ga., Nov. 18.—Three negroes, two men and one woman, implicated in the killing yesterday of Pearly Harper, a prominent young planter, were lined up by a mob and shot to death today.

More than one hundred and fifty men overpowered Sheriff Tanner and his two deputies after they started to take the negroes to Fitzgerald, Ga., for safekeeping.

Coral Reefs Far From Ocean.

Mention of coral reefs naturally brings to one's mind a picture of palm-dotted islets girt with white sands in a tropical sea, but geologists have found coral reefs in the middle of the great continents. These, of course, belong to the past ages of the earth's history, and Paleozoic corals have been found in the Timan-Urals and in the Salurian rocks of the New Siberian Islands, but the most striking characteristics of these fossil corals are similar to those of the corals of today. It is assumed that you refer to a number of remarkable coral reefs that within recent years have been explored near Bainbridge, on the Flint river, in Georgia. These reefs are ascribed to the Tertiary age, and in one case a very large portion of the reef exposed consisted of coral heads, some of which were more than a foot in diameter. Between 25 and 30 species of coral have been recognized in these reefs.

No Husband Is Perfect.

Don't expect all the virtues in one man. If he is good natured he may be lazy; if he is scholarly, he may be cold; if he is thrifty, he may be stingy; if he is generous, he may be wasteful; if he is smooth, he may be deceitful. The man who charms you with his immaculate appearance is likely to be something of an old maid; the man who is careful to pick threads off your skirt is prone to pick flaws in you; the man who takes an undue interest in the selection of your hats may take an undue interest in the bill which comes home; the man who, before marriage, jumps to open the door, lest your fingers be contaminated by the knob, may after marriage, allow those same fingers to be contaminated by the washboard.—Woman's Home Companion.

Fordson

TRADE MARK

There are many Tractors clamoring for the patronage of the farmer. The very air is charged with the noise of claims. One would think that all the farmer had to do was to buy a Tractor and he would enter into the Millennium.

Well, consider this fact—there are a great many different makes of Tractors. Tractors have been on the American market for twenty years. In that time some three hundred thousand Tractors have been sold to the farmers in the United States. The Fordson Tractor has only been on the market two years, and in that time more than one hundred thousand Fordson Tractors have been sold to the farmers of the United States.

Two and two make four. Two and two always will make four. If the Fordson Tractor had not delivered more good work, more satisfactory work, more economical work, than any other farm Tractor, it would not have sold in the ratio of anywhere from five and more to one. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." The proof of the superior merits of the Fordson Tractor is in its larger sale and use.

The Fordson Tractor then asks you to buy it because of what it has done for your neighbors. It asks you to buy it on its merits. It asks you to buy it, Mr. Farmer, because you have use for it every day in the year. All the uses for the Fordson Tractor have not yet been uncovered because new places where machine power can take the place of human power, where machine power can supplant horse and mule-power, are being found every week, and wherever such discovery occurs, the Fordson Tractor will fill the bill more satisfactorily than any other form of power.

The Fordson is simple in design, and it is very strongly made of the highest quality of iron and steel. It is the product of the greatest mechanical genius the world has ever known, and it is most economical in first cost and after expense. The Fordson Tractor on your farm will increase the value of every foot of ground in that farm. It will put more dollars and cents into every hour you put into the farm.

Now why not have a Fordson right away? Take up the subject with us. Come in and get the details, and all the particulars. It is only a matter of time until you buy a farm Tractor—that is sure. So don't put it off when it means money to you to act promptly.
